CHRISTMAS ATMOSPHERE

By Angela Arhip

January 12, 2015

The tense and competitive period of elections passed... The first snow of this winter fell and brought the seasonal charm, even though it didn't turn the capital white, yet... So, it's time for us to meet for the 4th time this year, not to play in the snow, but to say good bye to the old year and salute the beginning of the winter holidays. It's a cold December morning, but the sun is shining and fills us with a warm and colorful holiday atmosphere. The first decorations smile in the shop windows, the city Christmas tree is blazing gloriously in the center of the capital, and our studious students come one after another, positive and eager to see each other again. I can see them laughing, joking and talking.

Our special luncheon will be ready in half an hour and this gives us the opportunity to discuss and distribute gifts. The students prepared Christmas cards and nice words for their sponsors, the program offered students chocolates, a set of coffee + a mug, and some person hygiene products. This time our youth is pleased to receive this every day, but precious Christmas treat which always evokes a strong and favorable reaction.

Dear Sponsors

Thanks to all who sent holiday gifts to students. They will be receiving their gifts this week.
